

IDGY VAUGHN

WINNER of the New Folk
Singer/Songwriter Award at the Kerrville Folk Festival!

She's trouble for those who like singer-songwriters to fit nice and quietly into single-serving genre molds like "folk," "country" or "rock." She's trouble for those who don't like their sad songs leavened with humor, or their catchy, silly songs rubbing elbows with songs that punch you in the gut and wrench your heart out. Idgy's trouble for those folks because she does it all, without apology, prejudice or even knowing any better. Which, of course, also makes her all kinds of trouble for anyone who just considers themselves a sucker for a great song, whatever the flavor — and doubly so for suckers for a great voice.
